Party Was Motoring Near Rockford When Gun Report Is Heard.
(By Associated Press.)
Rockford, Ill., June 15.—Five soldiers of Camp Grant near here were sought today in connection with the shooting to death early today of Mrs. Maude Lucille Moss, wife of Capt. Leroy H. Moss, camp utility officer and daughter of Col. E. J. Arnold, pioneer electrical engineer. It was reported early today some of the men were believed surrounded. The entire military was seeking to establish whether Mrs. Moss was murdered or accidentally killed.

Thought She Was Asleep
That Mrs. Moss had been shot was not known until the automobile in which she was riding with her husband and four friends had gone a half mile. The party had just passed the small group of soldiers, it was said, when a sharp report was heard. The motor party later recalled that they had thought it was a misfire in the road. Mrs. Moss, who had been asleep on the rear seat wedged between Mr. and Mrs. William McCreight, believed Mrs. Moss asleep when she failed to recover her position but out their arms to help her and it was found only then that she had been wounded.

Threatened to Hospital, Dies
Captain Moss, who was driving, rushed to the camp hospital but Mrs. Moss died before Col. Arnold arrived. Camp officers immediately caused a roll call of every unit and a search was begun for the men unaccounted for.

No Arrests Made
No arrests have been made in connection with the shooting.

Capital Moss and Mrs. Moss
Chicago, June 15.—The group of soldiers, one of them shot at the pavement and that the bullet ricocheted off the concrete, passed through the back curtain of the automobile and hit Mrs. Moss.

One of the four has faced a court martial three times on charges preferred by Captain Moss, the police intelligence officer.
Car Was Stolen
Indication that an escape had been pre-arranged came to light when the authorities learned that a car had been stolen at Davis Junction, a small town just south of the camp, not far from where the shooting occurred. Morris, four soldiers drove into that village early this morning, tried to buy gasoline, and when the garage man declined to sell it, abandoned their machine.

Chief Thomas Morrissey was asked today to be on the lookout for four Camp Grant soldiers who escaped last night. It is believed a police car, touring car, license number 12550.

Mrs. Warren G. Harding
Marion, Ohio.—Of charming personality and possessing many social graces, Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican presidential nominee, always has been conspicuous in society. In her home town of Marion, Ohio, she helped to make the Marion Star, the newspaper which is owned by Senator Harding, in Marion. For years she was the directing genius behind the money counter and her counsel was always acceptable in determining the policy of the paper. On the early days, Senator Harding devoted his attention to the editorial end, while Mrs. Harding looked after the management of the business end. She checked up the advertising, kept a line on the carrier boys and saw to it that the money came in.

There are hundreds of men in Washington, June 16.—With no fixed engagements or political preferences stated for today, Senator Harding, the republican presidential nominee, hoped to make rapid progress in cleaning up an accumulation of mail and preparation for his departure from Washington within a few days for a vacation of two weeks or more.

Senator Harding has not yet decided where he will spend his rest period, but since he plans to devote part of his time to his speech of acceptance, he intends to select a quiet place.

Many requests to speak have reached the senator from all parts of the country, but for the present at least he will decline all such invitation.

CUPID DOES RUSHING BUSINESS IN JUNE, ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Milwaukee.—This month promises to break all previous records for June brides.

Robert "Cupid" Krueger, marriage license clerk in the office of County Clerk George Hempel, announced that the first 12 days of the month this year have almost reached the figure set for the entire month last year.

Thursday set a new record in the county clerk's office for the number of marriage licenses issued on any one day in the month's history, 32 couples applying for permission to plunge into matrimony.

LABOR DEMANDS U. S. CLOSED DOOR

A. F. L. in Montreal Asks Ban Be Placed on Immigrants.

(By Associated Press.)
Montreal, June 16.—The American Federation of Labor in convention here today called upon the congress of the United States to "ban" the "gentleman's agreement" with Japan and absolutely exclude Japanese and other Asiatic immigration into this country. The exclusion of "picture brides" also was demanded.

Declaring that a band of "irresponsible" agitators are attempting to discredit the movement, the federation unanimously condemned the "secessionist movement" which resulted in the recent railroad strike.

The convention instructed its affiliated organizations to "refrain from giving moral or financial support to any secessionist movement."

The executive council was instructed to investigate the desirability of forming an international union of building service employees of America, to include all workers known as janitors, janitresses, women, window washers, and watchmen.

Americans in Canal Zone
The convention adopted a resolution urging the United States to employ only American citizens in the operation and mechanical department in the canal zone.

The convention rejected a resolution that would have established a legal department to serve as a check on the actions of all law-abiding citizens against whom the use of the injunction is directed in the course of their legitimate trade union activities.

COLUMBUS FALLS BEHIND TOLEDO IN LATE POPULATION

CLEAN-UP DRIVE BY HEALTH BOARD GIVEN IMPETUS

ALLEYS, GARBAGE AND MANURE PILES, CESS-POOLS ARE DOOMED.

CITY APPROVES PROPOSALS TO ELIMINATE PUBLIC NUISANCES BACKED BY ALDERMEN.

Drawing deductions from the meeting at the city hall last night, at which the recently appointed board of health met with practically all city departments, the official capacity of the city's out-house, cesspool, manure piles, unattended garbage and the disgraceful conditions of alleys, both public and private, will be shortly doomed through legislation on the part of the municipal body.

Every proposal of the board of health to eliminate public nuisances met with instantaneous approval of the council. The next meeting of the council will see several new ordinances proposed.

The board of health, composed of Harry Garbutt, Joseph Conners and H. H. Bliss, the following were present: City Engineer Kerch, Supt. of Streets McKewen, Chief of Police Morrissey, Health Officer Welch, Plumbing Inspector Slightman, and Aldermen Dulin and Kerstel.

Politics vs. City Pride
While the matter of health and actual and pitiful conditions of the high point of the meeting was during the statements of Alderman Dulin when he charged the city with neglecting its duty to the detriment of the city.

"What they who have been elected to represent the people of the city are not doing is to stop meddling in politics to the extent they have in the past and get down to business for the advancement of the city as a whole," he declared.

A number of aldermen are afraid of impairing their standing with the voters by taking any action which would be construed as meddling in politics.

Outhouse Still With Us
A year ago I introduced an ordinance for the elimination of out-houses on property owned by the city. In addition, the ordinance would have regulated the construction of out-houses to avert diseases and epidemics.

It was not intended to be a hardship, as a certain reasonable period was included to permit the property owners to install toilets.

Obstructionists Must Wait
I refer to Milton Avenue and Milwaukee Avenue. And just as I said last night in the council meeting that I would take up the matter of the streets where the people are willing to spend some of their own money, McGowan and Billy Hyzer will have to take a lot of dust before we can get on with it.

Waukesha Iron Works Is Leased

The Samson Tractor company has taken over the Waukesha Malleable Iron company, one of the leading industries of the Spring city, employing 600 men.

J. A. Craig, president of the Samson, returned home last night from Waukesha, where he completed arrangements for leasing the plant with the privilege of ultimate purchase. This will be consummated in time, he said today.

The Samson company found acquisition of the plant necessary in order to use its entire output in the Waukesha factory. A great percentage of the malleable castings put out up to this time has been for the Samson company.

To Speed Production
Steps to increase production of the Waukesha factory will be taken at once in order to meet Samson needs. The Waukesha Malleable Iron company has been established for 30 years. It is a $1,000,000 concern. For the past 10 years it has supplied malleable castings to the Janesville Machine company, now Samson plant number.

"The lease of the Waukesha plant will make no change in General Motors plans at Janesville," Mr. Craig said today. "Construction of the new foundry will continue. We hope to have it ready for operation July 15, when 500 men will be put to work there."

Enlarge Both Units
Immediate enlargement of the local plant was announced. The plan is to extend each of the two big machine construction units 150 feet west, adding 25 percent to the present floor space.

The present output of the Samson model "M" tractors is 125. It is hoped to increase this to 225 by September 1.

It is expected no further construction than extension of the two present units will be made this year, owing to scarcity of material and unfavorable labor conditions.

N. P. BACKS BLAINE AND LA FOLLETTE
State Ticket to Be Endorsed at Convention in Madison.

Madison, June 16.—The Wisconsin branch of the Non-Partisan league has adopted a resolution declaring that the national convention stand for national questions taken by Senator Robert M. La Follette. Before night the league is expected to endorse an entire slate of candidates for the 12th U. S. district, and it is expected it will be as follows:

For United States senator, James Thompson, La Crosse; lieutenant governor, George F. Comings; Evan Claire; secretary of state, Elmer Hall, Green Bay; state treasurer, Solomon Smith, Madison.

The platform which has been adopted includes planks for the initiative, referendum and recall, immediate repeal of the Espionage and Sedition acts, scores the Esch-Cummings railroad bill, leaves the subject of prohibition to be handled by referendum, declares for public ownership of the railroads, utilities and packing plants, for compulsory attendance of school children under 16 years of age, and for the development of cooperative trade and industry.

FORMER LOCAL MAN RAIL WRECK VICTIM
The death of Robert Hodges, a former Janesville boy and the son of the late Robert Hodges, who years ago owned the carriage works at the present site of the Wisconsin Engineering company at East Milwaukee and North Bluff streets, occurred yesterday in a Winnipeg, Can. hospital.

Mrs. Hodges, who lives at 12th and Clark streets, and Mrs. G. T. Simmons, Edgerton road, are nieces of the deceased.

ENRAGED WHITES HANG THREE COLORED CIRCUS ROUSTABOUTS FOR ATTACK ON 17 YEAR OLD GIRL

National Guardsmen Rushed to Protect City; No More Trouble Expected; Police Overpowered in Last Night's Brick and Water Battle.

(By Associated Press)
Duluth, June 16.—Virtually normal conditions prevailed today on the Duluth business streets over which a mob of 5,000 persons surged last night, sweeping the police from power and seizing and lynching three negroes held in connection with an attack on a 17 year old white girl.

When two companies of Minnesota National guardsmen reached here at an early hour after a special trip from St. Paul, they found only a damaged police station and littered streets as visual evidences of the mob's activity.

Under personal command of State Adjutant General Rhinow, the 124 men and 6 officers went into temporary camp, preparing to patrol the streets if necessary to guard against any eventuality that might arise as an aftermath of the mob's mad run. The men are equipped for riot duty.

Police Are Overpowered
Last night's lynchings were accomplished after the city's police force had been overpowered by bricks and streams of fire hose in an attack on the police headquarters which fronts Superior street, Duluth's principal thoroughfare. For at least two hours the mob ruled, only relinquishing its power after the negroes had been lynched.

Attack Girl at Circus
Six negroes had been arrested by the police in connection with the attack on the girl which took place at the circus grounds Monday night. The circus owners attached to the circus as roustabouts. The mob held a mock trial, declared three of the negroes guilty and acquitted the other three who were still in the hands of the police.

The three "convicted" negroes were hanged within a block and a half of the police station. The mob hoisting down poles of two priests under the law be permitted to take its course. It took three starts to hang the first negro as the rope broke the first two.

Police Cut Down Bodies
After the mob had dispersed early today, the police cut down the bodies of the negroes which had not been mutilated. The authorities did not expect any further trouble today and expressed themselves doubly sure of this in view of the presence of the guardsmen.

A report received here early today from Virginia was to the effect that the negroes were being rushed in automobiles to St. Paul guarded by deputy sheriffs to be placed in the Ramsey county jail. A score of other cities carrying members of last night's mob had been reported on the way to Virginia today in an effort to escape the wrath of the state.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY LAW IS DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL
Springfield, Ill., June 16.—The supreme court today held the Illinois primary law unconstitutional. This decision dislodges the Thompson faction in Chicago and returns to power the "Deeney-Brundage" forces.

All offices created by the new edict are declared vacant and all convention proceedings and all else done under it is held without effect. Only elections actually held are exempted from the effect of the court's decision.

MISSOURIANS RETURN LOWDEN MONEY
St. Louis, June 16.—Robert E. Moore, who was a delegate to the republican national convention from the 12th (St. Louis) district, in a statement today asserted he had returned the $2,500 of Lowden funds he received.

Goldstein, delegate from the eleventh district, last night asserted the $2,500 of Lowden money given him had been returned.

Milwaukee, June 16.—Willis Van Den Schooten, 44, who was manager of the telephone system in Flint, Mich., his home town, was found staggering from a fall today seven miles north of Milwaukee on the Port Washington road, by a deputy sheriff and taken to the emergency hospital.

The man had weathered the rainstorm of the night apparently, and was drenched to the skin. He wore a Panama hat of good quality and a palm beach suit. In a pocket of the trousers was a bill fold containing a $1 bill, so soaked with the rain that it fell apart when hospital attendants took it from the fold. Three pennies completed the man's resources.

Van Den Schooten said he was on his way to a hospital at Rochester, Minn., but instead of walking north, he was going south toward Milwaukee. He is being held for examination.

SENIORS PRESENT
NOVEL PROGRAM

Class Night Exercises Successful—Get Diplomas Tomorrow.

In a semi-serious mood seniors of the high school last evening in the federated church headquarters, honored their privileges, duties, and responsibilities of the "carry on" work which they began four years ago.

Of the laurels won by the class, and achievements worth while, Gladys Morton told when she gave the class poem, which was a clever bit of verse. For the first time in seven years the senior class has a president who is somewhat of an orator. Earl Yahn, giving the welcome address, presented a discourse which lacked the amateurish air of a student giving his initial speech, and which was a sincere invitation to the festivities of commencement.

The stunts of class night were more unique than in other years. They showed more originality and imagination than heretofore. Mildred Wade who composed the class history, put on a sketch with two scenes. The first gave a touching class in elaborate costumes and the second the institution into which they had just been thrust. Several seniors took part in the playlet. George Todd presented the class colors, purple and cream, he said.

As a memorial of the class of 1920, a collection of all the seniors to be placed in the alcove of the main auditorium of the new high school. George Todd presented the class colors, purple and cream, he said.

Presentation of the mace, symbolizing the collection of all glory and power to the junior class, was made by Lovel Blackie. Edward Hemmings received the mace for the juniors.

Marking the technicalities of the law with due form, Leo Powers drew up and read the class will which was a humorous composition accentuating the "pet peeves" of the seniors. By means of "The Unreliable News," the rosy future of seniors was outlined in a humorous way. The election of Elmer Miller for mayor, running against Elmer Schultz.

Wings History Medal—Allan Decker, Washington school, was presented a gold medal, awarded by the Daughters of the American Revolution, for his work in the American history, and Ruth Virginia Hove, Jefferson school, winning second place, was given a silver medal. Mrs. A. J. Leveley made the purpose of the annual contest in which the best history pupils in every school compete for the medal by written examination.

The high school orchestra furnished three selections and the Boys' Glee club sang two songs. Closing the night exercises the graduates sang the class song composed by Esther Field and Miriam Decker, which contained several references to the name of popular songs. Sixty-two seniors will be presented with diplomas Thursday evening.

HOPE TO HAVE 300
MADISON, JUNE 30

Efforts will be made to get 300 farmers, including the families, to go from Rock county to attend the summer demonstration at the college of agriculture, Madison, June 30, according to an announcement made by R. T. Glasco, county agent today. These will be gathered from Janesville, Beloit, Edgerton, Evansville, Milton, Orfordville and other towns of the county and will make the trip in autos bedecked with banners reading, "Rock County."

Besides being on the style of a Rock County picnic with activities of interest adults and children, the more serious aspect of the affair will be to discuss the farm labor shortage and the need for more farm labor. The program will be held at the college farm on the lake.

The program follows: Morning—Visit buildings, soil plots, gardens, grain-disease plots, bees, poultry, swine, university herd; 11:00—Demonstration at stock pastures of the county and Dairy Stock, Prof. Geo. C. Humphrey.

Noon—Basket picnic. 1:30 at Hill Farm. Calling the Farm. Poultry Stock, J. G. Hovey. "The Red Bills"—Prof. R. A. Moore; 2:30—Men will visit the grain breeding, grain growing, alfalfa, soy bean, emergency feed crops and the new plots and hog feeding experiments; women will inspect the large exhibit of labor saving devices under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Hovey.

Boys and girls will be shown demonstrations and a good time by Prof. T. L. Bewick and other boys and girls club leaders. Prof. Halabin and girls club leaders will have a large exhibit of poultry and carry on continuous culling practice and show every body who wants to know just how to do it.

Speculators are offering 30 to 40 cents for wool. The market, it is declared, is around 60 cents with no great call. The plan is to pool the wool, keep it in a warehouse in Chicago and feed it to the market at advantageous times. Through it, the product goes directly from the producer to the consumer, enabling the farmer to realize the highest price possible. It is backed by the American Farm Bureau Federation and the college of agriculture.

PREDICT BUMPER
CROPS IN COUNTY

Elated Over Rains, Farmers See Success of Grains, Fruits and Vegetables.

Fruits, which last week faced the chances of being burned up by the hot sun, took a turn for the better early this week with the heavy rains of Sunday, Monday and yesterday. Strawberries, cherries, currants, grapes and the other varieties were in danger of ruin. Grains and vegetables, however, were only slightly affected.

Utter ruin of the strawberry crop faced the growers until the rain came. The plants were heavily laden with berries but lack of moisture prevented their ripening, according to reports received here from farmers.

What prices may be demanded for fruits this year are uncertain, according to growers here. Much depends upon the sugar market. If sugar continues high there will be a demand for fruit. It is the prediction. Stores can see no break in the sugar market. It is stated that the public will probably have to be content with only a few dollars at 40 cents and above. With no demand for fruits in quantities for preserving, they should sell cheaply, according to one grower. Nevertheless, the present prices are high.

according to nursery men and growers.

Cherries look good for a bumper production, both early and late. The green is commencing to show the first heavy yellow of the "turning point." Currants, blue, black and raspberry bushes are said to be loaded with fruit.

Corn is in excellent condition. The dry weather, accompanied by heat, gave the farmers an opportunity to clean up the fields through cultivation. Cut worms continue to play havoc with soil corn necessitating replanting in many instances.

Hay was slightly burned during the hot spell but is looking better now. Alfalfa and clover are declared to be the best in many seasons.

Oats Slightly Damaged

Oats and spring wheat were damaged by the intense heat, but the showers of the last three days will aid these grains considerably. Oats, being more of a cold weather plant, were the worse affected.</

SOVIET NOT LIABLE FOR RUSSIAN DEBTS KRASSIN ASSERTS

London, June 16.—Soviet Russia does not recognize its liability for debts contracted by Russia up to November 1917 and it compelled to meet them will have various offsets, says the Times in reporting conversations between British ministers and Gregory Krassin, bolshevik minister for trade and commerce.

M. Krassin is said to have denied the existence of liability, but intimated that if circumstances make it desirable for the soviet government to accept such liability, then the soviet government would insist upon inheriting the rights and privileges secured to Russia by former treaties.

He left emphasis, it is declared, on the convention of 1915 which awarded Constantinople to Russia.

In addition, the newspaper asserts, M. Krassin stated that if soviet Russia was compelled to pay the debts of that imperial regime it would insist on writing off against them the debts incurred by the soviet government in the "white rebels" as such attacks were financed or supported by foreign countries.

The wireless service of the French government is credited with great work. During the war some 50,000,000 words were tapped, and during the same period about 1,500,000 transmitted. Useful as the system was during the war, considerable advantages have been gained from it since the armistice in constituting a method of communication between the allies and those countries to which telegraphic lines are lacking.

MONROE

Monroe, June 16.—A drill team of 25 from Freeport Knights of Pythias lodge were in Monroe Monday night to take charge of the work of conferring the third rank upon a class of 19 at the meeting of Ivanhoe lodge. A number of visitors from Freeport were here also. This is the first time Freeport has sent a representation to Monroe. The meeting marked the closing of lodge for Ivanhoe lodge until fall.

Mrs. George A. Scott passed away Sunday afternoon at her home 510 West avenue, after a year's illness. She had been suffering from a complication of diseases and spent several weeks at the Deaconess hospital, being confined to her bed since December. During this time she had had the tender care of her devoted family, her son, Walter Scott having given up his university studies to assist in making her last days comfortable. Mrs. Scott was Hattie Leota Johnson, a daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Orlando Johnson. She was born at Hamlet, N. Y., March 5, 1862. Her marriage to George Scott took place at Hamlet, Jan. 27, 1883. In April of that year the Scotts moved to Walnut Grove, Minn., where they lived until Nov. 19, 1909, when they moved to Monroe, where she has since resided.

Surviving her are her husband, one daughter, Laura Scott and one son, Walter Scott, at home. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Mitchell, a former Monroe resident and widow of Franklin Mitchell, passed away at Long Beach, Calif., June 8. Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Clinton and Mrs. Klittle Lyman, who reside at Long Beach, and two sons, Abner Mitchell, Milwaukee, and Edward Mitchell, Long Beach.

CHANDLER SIX

The Chandler "Stands Up"

IT endures. There are many old 1913 Chandlers on the road to-day, doing good service, and thousands of the 1914's and 1915's. Their owners write us and tell us so.

The Chandler endures because it is built to endure. Dealers who have sold other popular cars say, "It costs ever-so-much less to keep a Chandler right."

The Chandler chassis, justly famous for its marvelous motor, is the development of seven years of constant application of the skill of Chandler engineers. And to-day it approximates perfection.

Six beautiful styles of body are mounted on the standard chassis, offering a wide choice from which to select.

$60,000 RAISED TO FARM GIRL BURNED NEW DOG TAGS ARE GET HIGH CURRENT IN GASOLINE FIRE AVAILABLE HERE

Six Towns in Three Counties To Receive Wisconsin River Power.

Evidence of the enterprise of southern Wisconsin farmers and citizens of a number of villages and one city was seen today with announcement that they have raised a total of $60,000 to secure electric light and power. The money represents the activities for two distinct communities, the nearest taking in Oregon, Brookfield and Evansville, in Dane and Rock counties, and the other, Monticello, Belleville and New Glarus, in Green county. The Wisconsin River Light and Power company will furnish the energy.

When the Sauk City-Janesville line of the electric company was being started last fall citizens of Oregon called on the citizens of the village of the Janesville Electric company, a subsidiary, and pleaded that the route be through their city. This was impossible.

It was explained by Oregon that their plant was operated by three disjunctive lines and that the line from the north and other times did not. Mr. Giese, at that time, promised an extension last spring and also agreed to send expert gas engine men to the village any time a breakdown occurred.

They heard about the proposal at Brookfield and from there came a delegation. Later Evansville learned of the matter and sent her representative citizens here to see if they too could not be furnished with Wisconsin river power.

Start Work at Once. The big line to Janesville was put in but at a cost it was said, of $200,000 in excess of original estimates. It was impossible to do any more extension work during the spring. It was then that the enterprise of the citizens of the village and farmers along the proposed routes showed itself. In a brief period $40,000 was subscribed to build a line of 22 miles of line from the station at Sloughton to a point on the Oregon road and from there splitting north to Oregon and south to Brookfield.

Work will be commenced at once, Mr. Giese said today.

Out in Green county, the richest farming area of the state, the best world, the champion herd owners have equipped their cowboys with electric fans to keep the flies from the cattle.

The small plants at Monticello and Belleville are owned by a man named Hanson Smith. Smith's plants were here for many years and broke down often. He sought to secure Wisconsin River current.

Active in Green County. This was in the early days of the same reason that the Dane and Rock county villages could not get it. Smith, however, received the assurance from Mr. Giese that if he built a line in getting current. So he raised $12,000 among Monticello, Belleville and New Glarus business men and farmers along the way and construction on 25 miles of wire will start shortly.

The first extension will run from Oregon west to Belleville. Both lines will carry a voltage of 13,200 volts, capable of taking care of any demand of any of the villages for a long time in the future, Mr. Giese said.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Drummond was held at 1:30 o'clock today at the home, 444 Cornelia street. Rev. R. G. Pierson conducted the services. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Funeral services were held for E. E. Clemmons, 503 South High street, received word today of the death of Edward Ward which occurred in Chicago.

Edward Ward was born in Footville 50 years ago. He moved to Chicago, Ill. when he was 15 years old. He leaves a wife to mourn his death.

The funeral party will arrive in this city at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning over the C. & N. W. road. They will go directly to Mt. Olivet cemetery where interment will take place.

INSURANCE AGENTS RALLY AT DELAVAN

Orrville S. Morse and H. J. Cunningham, local insurance agents, went to Delavan lake today to attend the annual convention of the insurance agents of Wisconsin. More than 500 were expected to attend.

The convention is being held at Highland hotel there. Last year's meeting was held at the same place.

CHICAGO BANKERS REFUSE LOAN TO CITY

Chicago, June 16.—James B. Fierman, chairman of the Chicago Clearing House, today notified the city that its request for a $1,000,000 loan had been refused by the bankers and that no more money would be loaned to the city at this time.

Refusal of the city to adopt a suggestion by the bankers that improvement projects be curtailed until a more opportune time for financing them in responsibility for the bankers' action, Mr. Fierman said. Chicago faces bankruptcy before the end of the year, he added.

DELEGATES BOLTED INSTRUCTIONS, CHARGE

Lincoln, Neb., June 16.—Frank A. Harrison, Lincoln, who managed the Nebraska presidential preference primary campaign for Senator William Johnson, issued a statement today, charging that "treachery and desertion of the delegates broke the heart of the Johnson movement."

Mr. Harrison declared that "just two men on the Johnson ticket were at all times tried to obey the instructions of Nebraska when the roll was called."

House Moving Blocks Main Street Traffic

South Main street was closed to traffic between Racine street and Oakland avenue this morning as movers rolled a house from the high school site to J. R. Winslow's property just off Oakland avenue. Interurban cars were unable to come up-town and passengers either had to walk or catch a street car. The rain delayed the work to some extent, but efforts were being made to get the structure off the thoroughfare by tonight.

Delia Kohl, 17 Years Old, in Hospital Suffering From Explosion.

With both her legs a great mass of horrible burns and blisters, Delia Kohl, a 17-year old farm girl, living on a farm near the town of Waterville, was taken to the hospital today suffering from a severe explosion, which occurred as she attempted to light a fire. The blaze reached her clothing and in an instant she was a mass of flames.

Her presence of mind probably saved her life. Throwing herself to the floor she rolled in a rug. The flames had been almost extinguished but broke out again, her clothing being burned from her body.

The local police ambulance made the 25 mile trip to get the little girl to the hospital here. Returning the trip was a small price because of the pain the child suffered. Many stops were made to give her water and sedatives to quench her burning thirst.

FOUR DIVORCES ARE GRANTED BY GRIMM; ALL BELOIT CASES

Four divorces were granted yesterday by Judge George Grimm in circuit court here.

Cruel and inhuman treatment was the basis for the action of Grace Coons against Orville Coons, Beloit. In her statements on the stand, she charged that her husband attempted to kill her and had repeatedly threatened her to such extent that she considered it unsafe to further live with him and left him for several weeks.

She returned, she stated, on a promise to improve, but after a few months he was again mistreating her, she said. She further charged that he showed her no affection and protected to distrust her. Indolence and laziness was another cause for action. She obtained her decree.

On similar grounds, Mrs. Vincent secured divorce from Frank St. Vincent, both of Beloit. She charged that his treatment of her became such that after living together four years she was compelled to leave him. When 15 years of age, she stated, she married and her husband took her to the north woods and made her live with him in small lumber shacks while he worked in the forests, would force her to cut wood and do other manual work which her physical strength could not endure.

For an entire winter, she declared she was made to live in a small shack some miles from the railroad or the nearest habitation and on the most meagre food and with little heat or clothing while her husband worked little and drank much. At times, she announced, she was locked in the little house while her husband went away for several days at a time.

Refusal and neglect to support since 1916 for herself and seven year old child, won divorce for Nedie Cook from Willis Chapel of Beloit.

A year of marriage of Truman Cook to Cord Cook, Beloit, was declared void when he was found in May of last year, he charged on the stand, declaring that he knew no reason for such action on her part. Divorce was granted.

GUNN, CHAIRMAN OF AFTON FARM BUREAU

5,000 Distributed Through County—Pautz Gets First Tag Here.

Dog licenses for 1920 were made available today throughout Rock county. Canine owners have from now until July 1 to secure their tags—$2 for each dog, and $3 for females, with an extra fee of 10 cents on each.

Ernst Pautz, former alderman from the Fourth ward today secured the first license to be issued in Janesville—number 551. He paid $3 charge on his 8-year old fox terrier, "Clypeo," to City Clerk E. J. Sartell.

Five thousand license tags were received from the state yesterday by City Clerk Howard W. Lee to be distributed throughout the county. Tags from 1 to 551 were sent to Beloit and from 552 to 1150 to the city of Janesville. The new tags are brass, in the shape of Wisconsin's boundaries.

Upon the city, town and village clerks is placed the responsibility of issuing licenses. Sheriffs, constables, and police must enforce the law, which was passed by the legislature last year at the urgent request of farmers who desire to raise more sheep.

Assessor to List Dogs. It proposes to deal humanely with dogs, but it also proposes to lessen the number of stray dogs from which sheep have suffered. It contemplates that every dog shall have an owner and a home.

Assessors are required to list each dog in their districts and give reports to respective clerks. The assessment will be paid 20 cents for each dog listed.

The direction of the statute will be under the state department of agriculture.

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERALS OF TWO DROWNING VICTIMS

Industrial concerns, lodges, friends and relatives gathered today to pay last tribute to Francis McCue and Francis Cunningham, young men who were drowned Sunday evening while paddling up the river.

The funeral of Francis McCue was held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Dean E. Reilly, celebrant, officiated.

The funeral of Francis Cunningham was held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's church. Rev. Father Charles Dierckx, celebrant, officiated.

Honorary pallbearers were Joseph Nolan, George Cassidy, Francis Connors, Edward Fullerman, and Frank McQuinn. Active bearers were Michael Flannigan, Milton Ray, Joseph Brundage, Timothy McCue, Harold Downs, and Michael Steel.

Those from out of town who attended were: James Casey, Chicago; Mrs. Ellen McCue and Lawrence McCue, Chicago.

Funeral services for Francis Cunningham were held at 9:30 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Rev. Father Charles Dierckx, celebrant, officiated and delivered the sermon. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were Malcolp McDermott, Arthur Noonan, James Doran, Richard Dawson, Reuben Selgren, and Harlin Drew. Active bearers were Joseph Flannigan, Adelbert Townsend, Edward Quinn, John Byrns, James Sterna, and M. Tollesford. These bearers were also Knights of Columbus.

TEMPORARY RELIEF FROM SALT SHORTAGE

Relief temporarily for the shortage of salt in Rock county, especially to the farmers, is promised through the statement today by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul general freight agent that a car of the article will be shipped here at once as perishable freight.

This will take care of the situation for about two weeks, according to R. T. Glasco, county agent, to whom the farmers and the dealers had appealed for assistance. The shortage is such a serious one, he states, that every effort will be continued, to get more of the staple here.

It was explained that with 4,000 farmers in the county all short of barrel to fill present needs, that a car load will not get a very long way.

HOW LONG?

There are plans enough to stop High costs, and to complete 'em. Well, I hope when they drop I'll still be here to meet 'em!

The reason these straw votes don't prove anything, says ex-Sergt. SOL, is because they merely show what the people want.

Clean wiping rags, white or colored, will bring cash at the Gazette office.

GOES BACK TO ALMA MATER FOR FIRST TIME IN 51 YEARS

Fifty-one years ago Dr. George H. Fox of this city finished his course in Bellevue Medical school, New York university, and struck out to practice his profession. Nearly he planned to get back to his alma mater to attend class and alumni reunions, but never did.

This year, however, it was different. Dr. Fox determined that after more than a half century away from the scene of his education he would return. Imagine his surprise when he attended the alumni association dinner last week to find that he was the only member present of the class of 1869.

Dr. Fox, in spite of his 74 years, is still practicing and expects to keep at his work for many years. He is active and to see him on the streets one would never guess the number of winters he has weathered. Obviously he was much disappointed to find that none of his classmates attended the alumni reunion.

Upon the city, town and village clerks is placed the responsibility of issuing licenses. Sheriffs, constables, and police must enforce the law, which was passed by the legislature last year at the urgent request of farmers who desire to raise more sheep.

Assessors are required to list each dog in their districts and give reports to respective clerks. The assessment will be paid 20 cents for each dog listed.

CONSTANTINOPLE IS INCLUDED IN ZONE OF STRAITS BY TREATY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, June 16.—Limited internationalization of the port of Constantinople and its environs within the "zone of the straits" is provided for in the provisional terms of the Turkish treaty. This is disclosed by an official statement received here today of the jurisdiction provided for the inter allied commission of control.

Independent of League. Granted its own flag, budget and separate organization, the commission will be headed by a British officer fixed for the "zone of the straits" will have authority for a territory considerably greater than some of the states of Europe. Made almost sovereign in itself, the commission is to be practically independent of the league of nations as administration is expressed in that should find liberty of passage of the straits interfered with it shall take such measures as may be deemed necessary to preserve the freedom of the straits.

The zone includes not only the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles but also three miles off shore from the mouth of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus and several miles of the Aegean sea. A land zone is provided extending from 10 to 17 miles northwest of the sea of Marmora and includes an area on the western side of the Gallipoli peninsula which Turkey cedes to England. Hence and for war memorials and cemeteries.

Stop Cars When Fire Trucks Pass

Apprehensive of an accident, Chief Cornelius Murphy of the fire department again today called attention of the motoring and driving public to the statutes covering procedure at time of fire alarms.

Sec. 1636 is: "The motorman of any street car shall immediately stop his car upon the approach of any fire apparatus when responding to a fire alarm and shall keep the car stationary until such alarm is passed and the driver of any vehicle, motor or otherwise, shall immediately drive his vehicle as near as possible to the right hand curb and keep said vehicle stationary until such fire apparatus has passed."

To avert delay on business and manufacturing district alarms to which the aerial ladder responds, the chief has urged that signs be placed on the east side of North River street from the rear of the electric company to the alley. A side door serving to save time and trouble in getting the long truck onto the street the idea also eliminates danger of damage to automobiles and other vehicles which may be parked in front of the fire station. A clearance of 40 feet is necessary to get the ladder out.

INJURIES OF MRS. OELLRICH, SERIOUS. Mrs. Bessie Oellrich, Racine, who was injured in the wreck of a Ford Marquette train Monday in the Chicago freight yards, suffered a broken backbone and a smashed hip, according to word received here by H. JANESVILLE'S HEALTH PROGRAM.
Some of the things discovered by the investigations made by the new board of health of Janesville, involve the interest of every citizen and not only invite but demand the cooperation of the people in remedying unsanitary conditions. Some of these, most in fact, are the necessary results of city growth and follow increasing population and broadening of building limits. It may be readily believed that no single citizen would be unsanitary conditions. But the small contributions made by each will eventually constitute a menace. Epidemics come and are fed on carelessness as to sanitation. No advance agent is sent to warn the public of these waves of disease. The house must be set in order and preparedness is of as great necessity here as in international affairs.
With the extension of the sewer system of the city and the opportunity for disposal of sewage, the outside toilet becomes a nuisance and a menace to health which now can be abolished. Disposal arrangements must be made and in these two large questions the cooperation of the individual is of vital necessity. The new board is promised the cooperation of the council in every way to meet the exigencies presented and for future action and protection. The program laid down for the citizens of Janesville is one of team work to make a sanitary and healthy city by the elimination of dirt and disease breeders.
Behind the local board of health is the state board which has laid down many rigid rules, many of which have been violated consistently in the cities of the state, both large and small. To make it impossible for this to be done hereafter without attention being called to such violations the public must take an interest and give its assistance and stand behind the council and the health board. Nor is it any time or place for ward politics, but the whole question must be treated as one concerning Janesville in its entirety as a municipality.

SIMPLIFYING PUBLIC SERVICE.
Gradually we are getting the public service corporations under such management and regulations that the public is being given the advantage in Wisconsin. Electric light and other utilities are being reduced to one in our cities and villages. Once it was necessary to have competition in order that one company should act as regulator of the other. The public took its choice, but costs of service were reduced. Twenty and thirty years ago, it was a necessity to establish competing telephone lines in order that the public should not be overcharged and a monopoly be established without check. There was no state supervision and national laws had not been made for correcting corporate greed. The telephone was so comparatively new that it had not come under rules which invariably follow long established things. So it came about that the independent telephone companies were of the greatest value to the public. They seldom made money for the stockholders, but they saved many millions to the people.
Eventually two systems, both necessary for the larger part of the users, work a hardship. It is probable that the time has come for Janesville to have only one telephone company. How that should be brought about the Gazette does not intend to say. That is a matter for the two companies here to work out, within the scope of the law, and it must be for the ultimate benefit of the public. The purpose for which the competing telephone company was established has been served. It has built up a large business. It is now asking for the privilege of making a higher rate. Therefore it would seem that the time is ripe for a merger of the two companies "for the good of the public." One telephone company is enough. It is in keeping with modern advancement. Under state supervision the check of competitive corporations is unnecessary to reach the end sought—good service and equitable rates.

SUGAR CRISIS AGAIN.
Instead of growing better the sugar situation continues to grow in seriousness. Within two weeks a national sugar distributing committee consisting of representatives of refiners, wholesalers and industries using large quantities of sugar, will begin the distribution of sugar. This committee will work with the department of justice. It is stated from Washington that canneries handling fruit and housewives canning at home, will be looked after first and be permitted to buy the most sugar.
If the government ever took an active part and sought for a solution of the sugar problem, now is the time to use every means to save millions of dollars of fruit value in home canning. In spite of bad weather conditions we are promised a large berry and other fruit crop. There is but one way to make this of value for food and that is to can it. The housewife is the head of the nation's greatest canning industry. To her we must look for much of the food supply of next winter. What we encountered in war time was nothing to what we are up against now. That not only concerns quantity available, but price. In this work the needs of the housewife should be arrived at first and once sugar be allotted. In Janesville there is plenty of sugar for temporary needs at a price however that is staggering, when the quantity used for preserving any quantity of fruit is considered. It would seem, therefore, that the committee and the department of justice should also look into the price question and eliminate any element of profiteering wherever it has originated.

Adamowski and the Smoking Ladies
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Chicago, Ill., June 16.—Alderman Adamowski of this city, has started something. He has raised the question as to whether there should be laws prohibiting the women voters here from enjoying certain privileges which the men voters enjoy and he has declared himself in favor of special legislation limiting the ladies.
In all fairness to Mr. Adamowski it must be admitted that he did not realize he was starting any such debate. Like many another worthy citizen he has probably been accustomed to answering the question, "Are women people?" by a mental negative for so many years that it never occurred to him that there was any side but his own.
This is how it all began: Mr. Adamowski's nineteen-year-old daughter came home one evening from a restaurant where she had been dining out. She was greatly agitated.
"Papa," she said (Mr. Adamowski himself tells the touching and dramatic story), "You are an alderman here. You ought to do something about this. I never before believed it was possible—in the cafe this evening I saw women smoking. SMOKING, just like men! Something ought to be done to stop such disgraceful goings-on in public."
His daughter's horror stirred the dormant reforming instinct in Mr. Adamowski's aldermanic soul. Not only did he wish to protect her from being forced to witness such exhibitions every time she dined in public, he also wished to see his civic duties by making Chicago a more respectable place. And so, at the next day at the close of the House of Representatives meeting in the city hall, Mr. Adamowski spoke:
"Do you know another thing that ought to be stopped in this man's town?" he said. "This business of women smoking in public. Why my 19-year old daughter . . . at a cafe."
Needless to say the reporters present snatched at this spontaneous project for civic betterment. That evening it was blazoned forth in the public prints. And since then Mr. Adamowski's mail has been swollen with letters of approval and condemnation. People are writing long letters for and against to the paper. There are other municipalities in Chicago, even in other cities, that could learn a lesson from this. There are other municipalities, the labor question, profiteering, and the many other problems, must take second place until the burning question of whether or not themselves shall be permitted to decide for themselves whether or not they shall smoke is settled.
Many Chicagoans are in Mr. Adamowski's proposed ordinance to stop them a step of the greatest importance in the preservation of the future generations who always seem to be in such desperate need of preserving. Others say with confidence that it is only to be expected of a reformer, having once felt the temptation of Americans, are now in a negative state of goodness. But to an absolute reformer the issue at stake is a much larger one than merely the first-hand decision involved. They say that it raises the question of whether or not we shall have sex legislation, that is, laws discriminating against the sex—that is, laws discriminating against the sex at this time question which is just on the verge of gaining legal and political rights. Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, is one who takes this attitude.
"I don't approve of smoking," said Mr. Trout when she was asked for her views. "I hope that when she was asked for her views, women to smoke suffrage instead of encouraging men to smoke. I don't want to see women smoking. But if we are to have any legislation about it let us have the same laws for all. People have got to realize that women are simply human beings the same as men. They are punished under laws made for men and extra laws for women. There is no reason for making extra laws for the more inoffensive sex. All this fuss about smoking is rather a silly business. It is only the principle of equal justice for all, which is the principle of the future, that makes it worth anyone's attention."

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST.
WE WHO ARE AMERICANS.
We who are Americans have much to dare and do. The world looks up to us as men who will stand staunch and true. We've crossed the seas in Freedom's name, for truth our sons have died. And for a better, happier world our peace is bought. By all our brave forefathers were, there is no moment when we must not live as they have lived and dare to die as men.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Lives there a man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said, "No egotism here is meant, But I'm the guy for President."

TIPS TO REFORMERS.
French Dressing—The name is suggestive of a man who is not allowed in any home where there are small children.
Two-Button Cutaway—The two-button cutaway has long been a notorious garment. It is so easy to slip on and off, really, loose flowing garments only should be allowed.
Round Garters—They must go. There is no room in our national life for the frivolous.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.
Nobody has ever yet invented a satisfactory brick steamboat.
Brazil nuts grow on trees and are not carved out of mahogany, as many people have suspected.
In England they have a new lighthouse that weighs one thousand tons, which is the heaviest object on the coast.
To remove the cover of a fruit jar (glass), bang it vigorously on the edge of the kitchen table or use a hammer. If it does not come off, bang it on the edge of the table again.

LOOKING BACKWARD
FORTY YEARS AGO
June 6, 1880.—The news comes from West Point of the death of David Treat, a former resident of this city and partner of A. P. Lovejoy. Barium with all his attractions will be moving to Janesville on June 29 and besides the performance of the afternoon and evening will give a free street performance in the morning.
THIRTY YEARS AGO
June 16, 1890.—Rev. E. A. Eaton, the pastor of the Central Street M. E. church, delivered an interesting sermon last evening at the regular services on "The End of the World," treating from an astronomical point of view. As it was from an astronomical point of view, the children's day, the Sunday school had charge of the morning services.
TWENTY YEARS AGO
June 16, 1900.—The committee for arrangements for the city's Fourth of July celebration met last night and made elaborate plans for a parade of floats, about two miles in length, to be held on the morning of the 29th. It is planned to have the merchants' parade. A float. This will be held in the afternoon on the main streets will be held in the evening.
TEN YEARS AGO
June 16, 1910.—William Helms, who made his home in Janesville for the greater part of his life, died at Rockford three years ago to live with his parents there, was fatally injured this morning when he was struck by a car on the main street. Helms was crushed so badly that he died at the station in this city about one o'clock this afternoon. The accident occurred at 11:30.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

CECIL MAKES MORE LOVE TO LINDSEY.

After two days' imprisonment I was glad to get out in the sunlight again and feel hot. Said sun was tremendously hot, but good nevertheless.

As I was swinging happily down Fifth avenue I ran into Cecil, returning from a visit to Boston. We were so glad to see each other, and he dropped his suitcase and hugged me right on the street. We decided to have lunch together, and walked to a small and secluded nook that I am very fond of, where we knew we should be undisturbed.

I told Cecil about my cooking bout and he enjoyed it thoroughly, especially the part where the omelette appeared on the table, heralded by mother's praises. Cecil told me over again that I was making a mistake of my life to marry—just now, but I turned the subject as quickly and skillfully as I could.

We talked on other subjects. Cecil mentioned that he had a letter from the girl in England. Feminine-like, now that she knows he has been strong enough to go out on his own, she has been a little more understanding. Small-minded women can't bear to think that their power over a man is gone—they don't want much, but this power—and how they revel in it.

Of course I broke loose in a picturesque way when I heard what she had written to him. Cecil said she could ever bother him any more, and he gave me a long look. I know that look now. It's a mixture of surprise and times. It's not an insult, as I used to think (childishly). It can't be helped. The dear fellow, when he is divided into two classes, husbands and lovers. They are but distantly related.

I was thinking this to myself, Cecil broke into my thought with the remark that women were of two kinds—women who were, and women who weren't. His girl in England, he explained to me, belonged to the latter. And fire could never mix with water, which is an involved but true saying.

I told him what I had just been thinking about, and we laughed. "There are ever so many problems in life, aren't there, little cousin-o-mine?" he said in his softest tones. "I assure you that they seemed to grow thicker every minute, and we smiled again.

Then Cecil leaned over the table and grabbed my hands and crushed them up to nothing in his big, powerful ones in a way that was terrifyingly possessive. You won't forget, Lindsey, what I told you once across the table when he saw them. You won't laugh at me—nor try to forget any littlest word that I have said to you about yourself or my me, because maybe some day you will want to remember them all. Life is that way to some of us. And, oh, Lindsey, how I shall wait—and hope!

To save my life I could not help the tears from coming into my eyes at the tender words of this cousin of mine, and I told him that I was sitting at the table when he saw them. I suppose by all the rulings of the game I'm quite an impossible person all right, but I can't help it. No person who has ever lived has ever been quite hopelessly bad who was true to nature to my knowledge. Yet they have always been true to nature. God keeps me the same.

Then I told Cecil how I was feeling about various things, and he told me that he had been thinking of the wisdom of his remarks to me about not being ready for marriage, or any life. I wonder.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

In recognition of her services in behalf of Serbia, Miss Helen Losanitch, daughter of Serbia's former minister to the court of St. James, has been decorated by Prince Regent Alexander with the white eagle, the highest decoration awarded by the Belgrade government.

Miss Losanitch, who is now in New York, is one of the few women to whom this distinction has ever been given, and with the exception of Prof. M. J. Pupin of Columbia university is the only person in the United States so honored.

The white eagle is bestowed only in recognition of services in time of war. The award was given in recognition of Miss Losanitch's six years of continuous service and devotion to her country. She is one of the founders of the Serbian Child Welfare Association of America, originally the Serbian Relief Committee. In 1916, by her indefatigable efforts succeeded in obtaining assistance of Americans for the helpless and homeless juveniles of the war-weakened land.

She declined several proffers of decorations from her government, and on her recent trip to America acted as envoy in conveying Serbian crosses of money to 15 Americans. She has just completed a trip to the Pacific coast to organize committees in large cities to obtain the "adoption" of Serbian orphans under the plan of the National Birthdays Committee, with which she is co-operating.

of the army and navy files. Mrs. Mary E. Freeman was the woman and she was the first woman to take up dactyloscopy as a profession. It was necessary for her to go to Scotland Yard to get the training she required. Now courses have been inaugurated in several of our colleges. New York university gave such a course during the past year. The field is rather limited just

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman. I married a soldier who went to France. My mother is a widow and so I continued to live with her and when my husband returned he came to our house to live.

My husband is making a fairly good salary, but hardly enough to buy furniture, pay rent and live comfortably. We are dependent upon my mother, although we pay all the expenses for mother. She owns the house and the furniture.

My mother and my husband cannot get along. She objects to all the little things he does. She will not permit him to smoke in the house and no matter where he goes he is always being told that he is in the wrong place. Of course I cannot be happy and listen to the constant scolding mother gives my husband.

Do you think we ought to do? I don't like to leave mother to live all alone, and besides we have very little money and would find it hard to get along if we lived somewhere else. My husband asked for a raise and the company where he works refused to give it.

DESPERATE. If you can afford to live somewhere else I would advise you to do so. Probably your mother would be happier to have her home to herself. You might be able to rent furnished rooms for the time being. Of course you should save in every way possible so that you can buy furniture of your own.

These are trying times for many young couples and I am glad to hear that you are now finding living conditions none too agreeable.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 19 years old and will be a sophomore at college next year. I would be pleased if you could tell me how I could be more popular with the boys. I don't like to play boys' outdoor games, but I am not enough with girls, but the boys won't have anything to do with me.

THANK YOU.

Mother Mistakes Poison For Flour Making Cake

Ogden, Utah, June 15.—One grand son is dead, another dying, and seven other members of the family are ill because Mrs. William Howard of Brigham City mistook a poison for flour when she dusted her bread board. The poison had been placed in a cupboard after an orchard had been sprayed.

Chicago.—Major General Wood characterized as "a vicious and malicious falsehood" the declaration by Nicholas Murray Butler that a "righteous group of stock raisers, oil and mining promoters, munitions makers and other like persons" had been behind the general campaign for the republican presidential nomination.

St. Louis.—Nat Goldstein, delegate to the republican national convention from the 11th district, announced he would not return to the city to further the candidacy of Gov. Lowden for the republican presidential nomination.

SPECIAL SEATS FOR INTER-CITY BASEBALL GAMES

300 in Each Place—Clubs Are Strongest in Midwest—Rain Bothers Grass Cutting.

Seating arrangements for the big inter-city ball games Saturday and Sunday are now taking the attention of the managers of both teams. Although all the reserved seats at Beloit were gone almost a week ago, and there is no such section here in Janesville, plans are laid out yesterday call for a special section in each park for the fans of the other city.

At Beloit, there will be a part of the grandstand roped off for 300 Janesville rooters. The same will hold good here for the Gateway city nuts.

Get Down Early
Despite these courtesies, the word goes out that it would be well for Janesville folks to get down to the city to the south of the city, not this hour, for the 300 seating places will not last very long and will go "first come first served." A large sign will be erected at that part of the stand to tell people.

This rain that has been stealing along in the nights to the delight of us of us, for the grass is not growing, is making the grass in the outfield grow like weeds. While the original intention was to plant the seed so that the lawn may hold the dust, the green stuff is breaking through so fast that Caretaker McNamara says he can't find where he started to cut it after he has moved to the other end of the diamond.

The rain is also interfering with the filling of the hole down at short. But this will be overcome in a day or two and in time for the game on Sunday.

Beloit Fans Sammie
Beloit will not admit that the Sammie are in a class with the Janesville. They are being distributed down there to the fans. It does not emanate from the office of Manager Chubb of the Fairies or any of the baseball office. It is a rumor and sounds as if they had been with teeth eating it up.

The real facts of the matter are that the Fairies of Chicago play an exceptionally strong ball club that has been playing together for seven years. Against this record, the Sammie "Tractor" has had in the past that has been the reason of the Chicago League this season so that it vies with the Fairies for the lead. These two clubs have played, rank as the leaders of semi-pro ball in the middle west, and we do not bar any team that jinks out of Chicago when we say it.

Some Battle
Thus, the same folk realize that there will be a battle when the clubs meet this week-end. Comparative scores do not tell any story as to what can be expected. Even seeing the two teams' records, it is hard to tell the outcome of the battle. The foreign diamonds against other teams tells little. The only real figuring will be done when they actually clash in their eyes and iron in their veins.

Janesville has one thing in its favor. That is that it can boost of its "rightest" championship in the history of the country. It is a combination that does not know the words "give up" no matter what the odds against it or the luck in its favor.

Better Support Here
Backed by the best support—far better than Beloit is getting from the crowds which were recently given out at the line city—of an aggregation hereabouts, the Sammie have still another thing in their favor. In cheering and giving support to a club, the yells of crowds that come only for a big game do not count, never can vie, with the pep and rooting of a home crowd. An honest booster such as this city has gained this year and Beloit has not.

The chances of winning will be better if the crowds continue their good support of the club and show the players that they have faith in their ability.

Dope on the umpires is not yet ready to be given out.

AMERICANS WIN AT TENNIS IN LONDON

London, June 16.—R. Norris Williams II of Boston, United States champion in 1914 and 1915 was defeated in the fourth round of the London tennis championship tournament here today by J. G. Fitchie, 2-6; 6-3; 6-2.

London, June 16.—In the second round of the London tennis championship tournament, Tuesday, Charles S. Garland, Pittsburgh, Pa., beat Sherwell 6-2; 6-4.

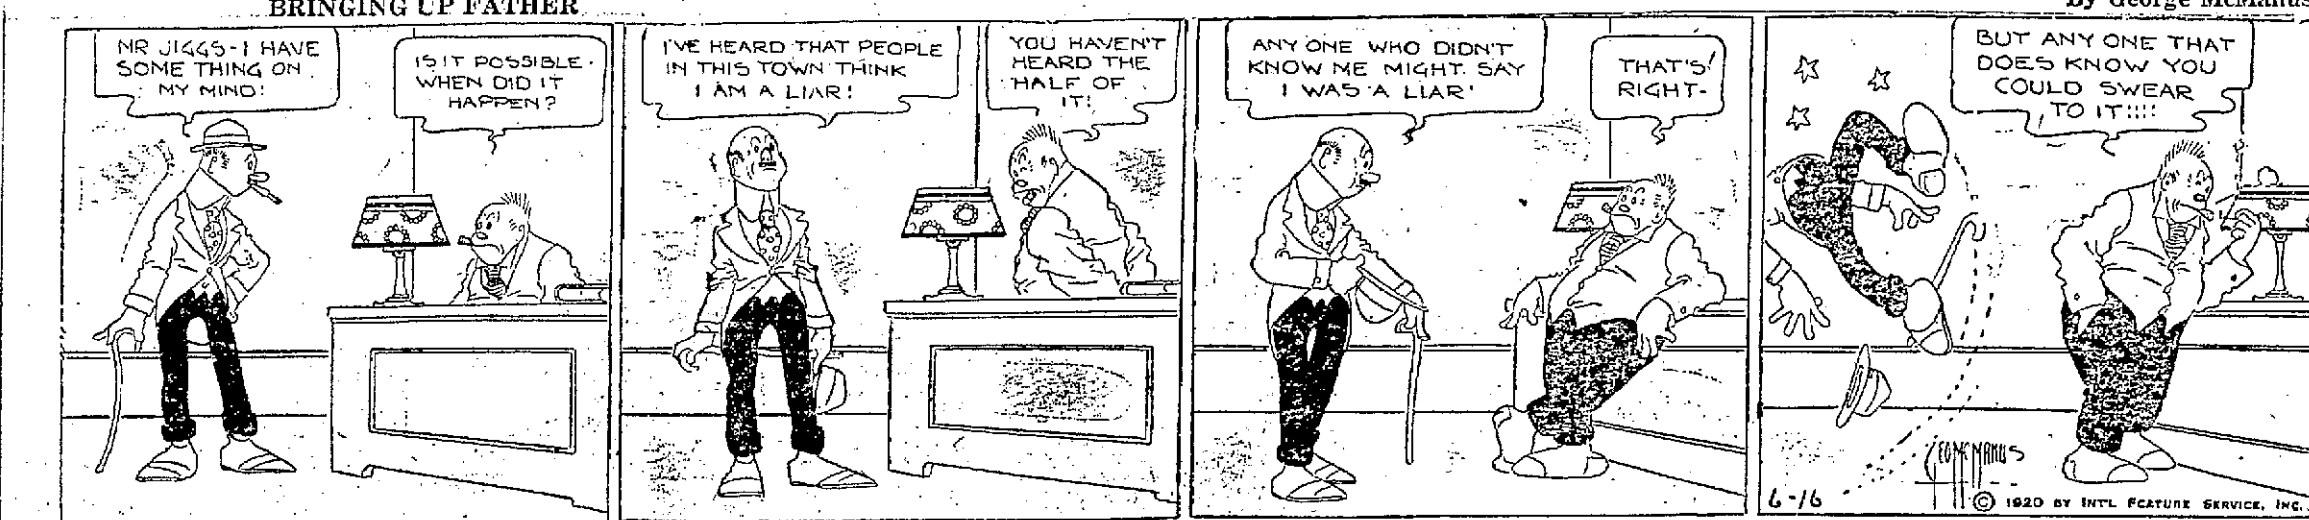

In the first round of the ladies' championships, Mrs. Mallory (Molla Barmstead), on the American team, beat Miss Davenport, 6-3; 6-1. In the doubles William J. Johnston and William Tilden beat Fellers and Ashkan. R. Norris Williams and Charles S. Garland beat Evans and Smith.

New York.—The first organization meeting of the consortium for the purpose of uniting British, French, Japanese and American banking groups will be held in New York the middle of September.

RESOLUTE BEATS VANITE BY 3 MIN.

Newport, June 16.—The Resolute won the eighth America's cup defense elimination race from the Vanite on Tuesday, by the widest margin either race has had in the last week. The elapsed time was 2 minutes 4 seconds, and the corrected time 3 minutes 41 seconds. The race was sailed in the evening breeze over a shortened course, which had been expected to give the yachts a beat to the outer mark and a run to the finish. The Vanite held on the last leg making it a reach. The Resolute gained 26 seconds in the fourteen mile heat and 1 minute 50 seconds on the reach.

Clark pitched a good game for St. Patrick's, holding St. Mary's to six runs until the ninth inning. Then the other side got wise to his delivery and crashed into him for nine runs, almost snatching the game out of his hands.

The "Shamrocks" defeated the Blackhaws in the first major league baseball game by an overwhelming score of 27 to 2. The Shamrocks knocked two pitchers off the rubber. Hammond was taken out in the sixth, and Raubacher took the rest of the beating. Hammond was knocked out for 18 hits including 5 home runs, a triple and home runs by D. Dawson, Sheridan and M. Dawson. Eight hits were collected out of Raubacher, six singles, a two-bagger by Cullen and another homer by D. Dawson. D. Dawson held the Blackhaws to two runs, allowing 3 hits. He retired 17 men, including 5 batters. Cullen got five hits in six times up, holding batting honors for the day. For the Blackhaws, Raubacher, Wilkins and Jersild played a good game. The Shamrocks would like to get a game with any team in town under eighteen years. Anyone wishing a game please call A. Clark on the old phone, 758.

Lessons in Swimming

How to Swim and How to Aid Drowning Persons Will Be Told in the Department of the Gazette, Material Furnished by the Wisconsin Y. M. C. A.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

Before learning to swim one usually asks: "What stroke am I to use?" and he may receive various answers depending on the teachers asked. In the old swimming schools and some of the modern ones the breast stroke is taught. This stroke seems to be a favorite among the women. The modern teacher uses a very different stroke namely the American Crawl a direct descendant of the famous Australian Crawl. The introduction of this stroke has revolutionized swimming both as a competitive sport and an art. There are many ways to swim this stroke, each of these methods differing only in some small technical way, the general principle all being the same, and so simple that almost any one can learn it in a very few lessons. In fact, it is very much easier than the breast stroke requires. Two of these differences are four beat and six beat kick crawl. Some of our fastest swimmers use the first, namely the four beat kick, while others of the same class use the six beat. It simply means that the swimmer kicks, or rather thrashes four or six times to each complete arm movement.

Paul Withington, the former University of Wisconsin football coach, and Capt. of the Harvard Swimming Team 1908, 1909, in the Book of Athletics gives a story of the origin of the crawl stroke. Whether true or not it illustrates so well the principle upon which the stroke is based that it will bear repeating here. "One of the Cavill Brothers, all of whom were great swimmers agreed to swim an important race with his feet tied tightly at the ankles. To his great surprise and that of the spectators he not only won the event but made faster time than he had ever accomplished before. With his feet tied as they were he naturally could not make the scissor kick of the ruderous stroke, so he allowed them to drag aimlessly behind him. The result of the race set Cavill and others to thinking. He gave up the ruderous stroke for short distances and swam without using his feet at all. Now he noticed that his feet had a tendency to sink a little below the surface of the water and that he had to paddle his feet rapidly up and down. This not only raised his feet, but his entire body sank less in the water. This was a brilliant athletic discovery and the invention of the crawl stroke.

This stroke is suited to everybody not only boys and girls as is often thought, but also to men and women. Boys and girls between the ages of 9-14 learn more easily than do older persons, while fleshy persons who may not be able to swim so fast, because there is too much fat around the shoulders to permit an easy, graceful motion of the arms, float much easier. The same may be said for women in general, viz., that it is easier for them to float than swim but after that they usually outclass men in grace and poise. You have seen the slow motion pictures depict a champion man and a woman diver from same height, each doing the same dives, yet the woman has more grace and rhythm than the man. She has a supple, muscular system making it much easier to learn a stroke. She has much better control, a pretension of rhythm than a man, and last she has an even layer of fat to protect her from the cold and to help buoy her up.

There are three things that must be acquired in learning to swim: first, the proper timing of the stroke, a co-ordination of the movements of

SOX BEAT SENATORS; BREWERS DEFEATED

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Bunched hits by Chicago defeated the Senators yesterday, 3 to 5. Four straight by the St. Louis Browns gave them a clean sweep of the series from Boston. Tuesday's game was won by a score of 12 to 6. The Red Sox jumped into the lead in the third inning with four runs, but the Browns came back in their half with eight.

Cleveland made it three out of four by beating the Yankees 10 to 2. Mays was knocked out in the third and Collins and McGraw were wild. Detroit took the series from Philadelphia by winning the game yesterday, 3 to 2. A home run by Shorten in the third scoring Bush, gave the Tigers an early lead.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cubs inactive because of wet grounds. Down went the Dodgers to second place when the Champion Reds swept them 10 to 5. Four Robin pitchers failed to hold the onslaught in check. Pfeiffer was batted out in the fourth. Mitchell lasted less than a round. Michart yielded four hits and two runs.

The Giants lost the last of the four game series with St. Louis 8 to 7. The winning run came in the ninth. Pinch hitter Nicholson's home run in the ninth with Schmidt on base tied the score at 2 double and steal in the tenth sent Whitford across with the run that gave Pittsburgh its third victory over Philadelphia, 7 to 6.

San Diego, Calif., June 16.—Agents of the department of justice and immigration were watching along the Mexican border line a few miles south of here today, to arrest Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, should he enter this country. Johnson is wanted under a conviction for violation of the Mann act.

The federal officers indicated their watch was not based on any great confidence in reports from Mexico that Johnson soon would be deported, but upon the possibility that there might be some truth in those rumors. They particularly discounted a report printed in one Mexican paper that Johnson had been given 30 days to leave the country. The reason for the order the report said, was Johnson's alleged conduct toward Mexican girls.

Johnson according to common talk here has been in disfavor with the Mexican authorities for some time.

HEALTH CLEAN UP DRIVE LAUNCHED

Well, they'll take a lot of dust down there too before we do it. They won't spend their own money. They want the city to pay the cost. And then they'll kick because taxes are high and somebody up back of the round-house is paying for sprinkling South Main street. It is not the fellow who hasn't got a big automobile and a big bottle in the bank that does the kicking and gives us the trouble. We're doing everything we can up here at the city hall but we're being blockaded and knocked right and left by some of these people with money.

City to Gather Garbage
Mr. Dulin's outspoken remarks came after members of the health board, Dr. Welsh, City Plumber, Inspector Silberman and Morrissey, had related the conditions of out-houses and of alleys, those in the downtown district.

A probable solution of the elongated and belated garbage question came with the suggestion that the city collect the garbage and clean the alleys in the business district and that the cost be charged back to the property owner. Mr. Dulin will have such an ordinance at the next council meeting.

"I had three teams for three days last week cleaning up the downtown alleys and yesterday I went through them and they were just as bad as ever," said Street Superintendent McKewon. "Such an ordinance as proposed is the only solution."
"Police officers have been reporting bad accumulations of garbage for some time past and I have turned the reports over to the health officer," reported the chief of police.
"And I've taken it up with the officers with little result," informed Dr. Welsh, the health officer.
"Everybody having a store within a hundred feet of a pile of ashes or garbage deny they placed the pile there at the city hall but we're being blockaded and knocked right and left by some of these people with money."

Sewerage Disposal Plant
Before the meeting was called Mayor Welsh, in conversation with Mr. Bliss and Mr. Connors, declared that the city would have to make other preparations for a garbage disposal plant. He suggested a reserve fund to be increased annually and to be provided for in the proposed city budget.

The state is contemplating purification of all rivers and lakes through laws making it obligatory for municipalities to erect incinerators or disposal plants. It will not be done all at once, but will extend over a period of about 10 years, the mayor said he was informed at Madison. This would eliminate sewer disposal going into the river. Already Janesville is making preparations for the future.

Monterey Sewer Expensive
More along that point came up when it was brought out that the large sewer in Monterey must be built at a great expense, according to the orders, specifications and plans of the state.
Along the same line, Dr. Welsh said that he had been served with notice from the town of Rock that there must be no more dumping of the city's refuse there by scavengers, otherwise the town board would secure an injunction restraining the municipality from such acts.
"From this said Mr. Bliss, who acted as chairman of the meeting, it can be plainly seen that we must prepare for the future, for an incinerator or other garbage disposal plant. We will be restrained from dumping the sewerage into the river within the next few years, and even now we have no place to throw the garbage accumulation."

Epidemic Caused by Flies
Dr. Welsh was emphatic in a statement that an epidemic of blood poisoning and cholera morbus occurred in the city last summer because of flies. A number of infant deaths occurred, he declared, large numbers of flies were given—open vaults and manure piles.

"If you can remember, you know that in late July, 1919, I had practically no flies," he said. "In the vicinity of manure piles this was caused by their inability to secure food. When crops needed more attention the farmers could not haul it and the horse outfit accumulated. Then in myriads came the fly."

Conditions Are Horrible
"The insanitary out-house was the other reason. Actually, you know that in late July, 1919, I had practically no flies," he said. "In the vicinity of manure piles this was caused by their inability to secure food. When crops needed more attention the farmers could not haul it and the horse outfit accumulated. Then in myriads came the fly."

"I have found others, but just as the city engineer, store and meat market men argued to me, the chief of police, Mr. McKewon and the city plumbers to their inability to secure sewers, had been removed. There must be some specific ordinance to back us up."

In 1919 there was a total of 1,533 out-houses in the city and in 1918 less than 5 per cent of these had been eliminated, after miles of sewer lines had been laid," Mr. Silberman declared.

Cesspools Give Trouble
A number of residents of Sherman avenue were present and asked for action through the health board to avert insanitary conditions which have existed in the home section of mushroom growth in the spring. The city granted temporary permits to the builders, Matteson-Lindstrom, to install temporary cesspools as there was no sewer on the streets.
The life of these disposal wells was to be two years, by which time the city authorities hoped to have them removed. During the winter and also during the heavy rains of the past several days, the cesspools have filled with excess surface water and the overflow has seeped through the foundations into cellars. A large number have had to be dug up and repaired.

Promised Relief
Home owners expressed the belief that if curb and gutters were laid the trouble would be taken care of temporarily, for a great number of Aldermen entered just at this time and Ald. Dulin suggested that the Second ward man enter an order to curb and gutter on Sherman avenue before the council at its next meeting.

The men were promised by City Engineer McKewon that the specifications for a sewer to their district was planned and that the work would commence just as soon as possible and that it would, if at all possible, be finished by fall. Pipe shortage, due to lack of railway cars, the mayor explained, was one of the causes for delay in sewer work.
Acknowledgment was made by the members of the health board to the suggestion of Ald. Dulin that they attend the next council meeting.

Of Interest to Farmers

BUCKWHEAT PROFITABLE FOR LATE GRAIN CROP

Many farmers who were short of help this spring and others who had land too wet for corn or grain are now wondering what to plant to make the best use of their land.
"If a hay crop is desired, millet should be considered, while for grain buckwheat is one of the best cash crops to sow," says R. A. Moore of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. Buckwheat can be seeded at any time during the month of June, but early June seedings are better than later plantings.

"Japanese and Silver Hull are the two most popular varieties of buckwheat," says Mr. Moore. "The Japanese buckwheat is a later variety than the Silver Hull. For this reason Silver Hull is best where late seedings are necessary."

"Sow Silver Hull at the rate of two pecks to the acre while three pecks of the large Japanese seeds are needed."

"Buckwheat is a good crop to grow on new soils as it will subdue them and make them more 'workable,'" recommends Mr. Moore.
"It is not as good as millet as a nurse crop because it has too many leaves and keeps the ground too well shaded for the young grass or legume crop to do well. It is harvested with a self binder, any time after most of the plants have turned brown. It should be bound loosely and set up in loose shocks where it is allowed to cure. It may then be threshed directly from the shock or hauled to the barn and threshed when convenient. If it is stacked, it should be covered with a canvas or marsh hay."

"There is a steady demand for buckwheat in Wisconsin. Large mills like those in Berlin and Janesville are obliged to ship buckwheat from Pennsylvania and Ohio. The demands. This should not be necessary in a state as well adapted to growing buckwheat as Wisconsin, especially when one considers the profits that can be obtained in growing the crop."

REMODELED OLD FARM HOUSE TO MAKE MODERN HOME

Out at Hill farm is a common farm house which is slowly being remodeled to fit the needs of the present day farmer and to make it such a home as we expect to see on the farm.

How the old house can be remodeled and what has been done so far, will be the substance of a talk given by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, to the farm women, Station day, Madison, June 30.

Labor saving devices are coming into use more and more by the housewife and part of the day a model kitchen will be shown. This room will have all the very latest devices for the kitchen, such as electric irons and stoves, bread mixers, ice boxes and cabinets.

Washing machines and a power mangle, and its use in ironing the family clothes will be part of the exhibit for the laundry.
An electric light and power plant will be set up and the visitors will be shown how to stop and start it and other things necessary to its use in the home.

"These are all things which the present day house is soon going to have," states E. L. Luther, in charge of Station day, "and we want the women to know about them."

ESTIMATES SHOW GAIN IN QUALITY POTATO CROP

Wisconsin will produce in 1920, 150,000 bushels of certified seed potatoes on 20,000 selected acres, according to estimates made by John W. Brann who has charge of the inspection work. This will be an increase of 25,000 bushels over last year's production.

In 1919 there were 275 growers of certified seed potatoes and of the 250,000 bushels inspected, 125,000 were accepted for certification. This year there are 325 growers and it is expected that fully 150,000 bushels will be certified.

Certified seed potatoes are a big cash crop with many farmers, some of them growing as many as 150 to 200 acres in a single season. The Rural New Yorker and the Irish Cobbler are the varieties most commonly grown.

Growers plant seed which has been certified the previous season. The fields are inspected during the summer and all foreign varieties are weeded out. After harvest the potatoes are given a bin inspection to make sure that they are true to type and are not mixed with other varieties.

TREAT SEED POTATOES TO PREVENT DISEASE

As usual interest in treating seed potatoes all over Wisconsin is reported by R. E. Vaughan of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

"In Buffalo county one druggist told me that he sold out his supply of corrosive sublimate twice and the potato growers had to fall back on formaldehyde," Fully 40 per cent of the seed potatoes were treated estimates Mr. Vaughan.

R. E. Curf, county agent in Barron county, reports that about 50 per cent of the potato crop in his county was treated and that almost all of the growers of certified seed stock treated their seed this year.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, June 16.—Corn advanced in price today until September delivery had touched the high level set this season. Absence of selling pressure was the immediate cause. Finally checked the bulls and brought about a reaction. Opened 1/2¢ higher, which ranged from 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ gain, with July at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢, and September at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢. The market was up all around and then a material setback.
Wheat advanced with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, including September at 85¢ 1/2¢, the wheat market was up all around, before beginning to react.
Strength of grain and hogs lifted provisions a little. Pork advanced, weakness prevailed owing to the unusually big stock of lard on hand.
Shiners were active. A few buyers and the market for future deliveries soared again with July at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢, and September at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢. The close was nervous at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢, and September at 1/2¢ to 1/2¢.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNIT

"LaFollette Not to Head A Third Party But Will Make Republican Party His"

(By STEPHEN BOLLES.)

This man backed me into a corner at the Congress hotel just before I left Chicago, covered with more or less honest sweat and several layers of coal dust, and the pulverized grease with which they embellish Chicago streets, including the Boul Mich. The only person who could live economically at Chicago during the republican national convention was the colored delegate from the south. He needed no soap, nor even detergent.

But as to the man who backed me in a corner. He is the Wise Person in Wisconsin politics. He has held an office for twenty-one years and in that time has had much to do with county, congressional and state politics. As to the national game, he is wise enough to say that he is willing to look on. That is one reason he is wise.

"There is a lot of talk," he said "about Bob La Follette bolting the ticket and heading a new party—something called the Committee of 48 or 49, whatever it is. Don't you believe it. It means lining up many things in his state that can't be lined. Who's going with La Follette? Is John Blaine who wants to be governor? Is Thompson who wants to be senator? Is Blaine or Blaine, who both want to be governor and are La Follette men? Hardly. It's too precarious a field—this trying to make a new political organization so that it can be spelled in large letters. Yes, I went over with Roosevelt and took my medicine, but it could not last. Bob has no one to punish in the Wisconsin party. He showed in the superficial figures on the delegate election that he was running good, and his only troubles are to keep the boys from breaking up the furniture in the fighting for governor."

Take it on the other hand. "Now only a little while before this one of the oldest of the Washington correspondents had told me that he had it from Senator La Follette, last spring that if the republican party did not nominate a progressive republican and adopt a platform in harmony with the Wisconsin idea—he, the senator, would head a new party and be its John C. Fremont. Then Senator La Follette added that the nomination would come from the committee of 48 which had a strong branch in Wisconsin. He had no thought that it would win, neither did John C. Fremont, but four years later Abraham Lincoln did win as the leader of the republican party." I told this story to the "Wise Man." No John C. Fremont stuff. "That is quite possible," said he, "but things have changed. Supposing the result of the primary had been different and the La Follette delegates had been in the minority? There would have been the same noise, the same platform protest, the same staying together of the La Follette delegates as we have seen here in the convention. But, and note this, but, there might then have been some excuse for a bolt. La Follette has a number of the national committee. Al Rogers. He will also control the state committee. No, sir, he won't bolt, but he will build up a new and different sort of a republican party in Wisconsin. The only thing about it recognizable will be its name. Yet it is a foxey thing to do and on the ground with an organized party he can accomplish most anything which might, take months and perhaps years to work out if he followed off after that John C. Fremont stuff.

The Example of Hiram

"There was Hiram Johnson out in California, who is cautiously disliked by Bob. His republican party was a different sort of a party than the republican party, say in Massachusetts or Ohio, but he won on the ticket for senator while the New York man, Mr. Hughes, fell by the wayside. I can't see Senator La Follette going off with any committee of 48. You will see the nonpartisan league getting into line for Bob's program and the German countries would not stand for the switch over. They would not follow Roosevelt nor would they be with La Follette except on to espionage and the war attitude he assumed. As it is Bob is now their idol in Wisconsin. Why then, may I ask would he as a shrewd and clever politician want to give up a place in the big tent if only in the bleachers, for a peek through the scenery on circus day?

Will Have a Friend Anyway

"Whether Blaine or Dithmar or Hull win in the governorship free for all, La Follette will have a governor as a friend. He is fighting to get the senatorship and intends to make Leffort jump for his life. If Thompson wins, La Follette will have the big end of the national machine cry: But he wouldn't have a chance as a boss of a third party of either getting a governorship or a senatorship of the pot. Hence and therefore take it from one who is sure he knows what he is spilling here, the honorable Robert M. La Follette will not be heading a third party if he is well, and if he continues to be sick of course he will not be active at all. Who will be governor? Like Hashimura Togo, I inquire to know."

The Next Governor

"That would be telling. Frankly I don't know," but I am saying to anybody who is of an inquiring mind like a newspaper man or a divorce detective, that the man who will carry the biggest end of the republican vote has not yet been named nor has he hung up his banner. It won't be Vilcox and I doubt very much that Emanuel Philipp will ask for a fourth helping of the sandwiches and ice cream. Politics in Wisconsin has arrived at a period where the game is much like it is south—all the fighting done in the party. And after listening to 338 more pieces and scraps of political wis-

Movies Relieve Monotony In Decastated Regions

Paris.—To relieve the monotonous evenings of the inhabitants who have returned to the devastated regions of Northern France, the Junior Red Cross of America has provided a travelling moving picture show operated by two American women.

London.—Belgium and Japan, it is learned, have decided to join in negotiations the British government is carrying on with the bolshevik minister of trade and commerce.
